

Take a look at what clients have to say about C.A.M.

Imagine being at your lowest point in life and feeling that you're just stuck. That's exactly how I felt. I was already determined and strong minded, but I just needed that "push" which is what C.A.M. has given me. They have given me on- going support for work, housing, and resources that just keep opening more doors for me....I am now a graduate of Ivy Tech community college pursuing more education in my field. With the help of one of the administrators at C.A.M., I landed an awesome job, and most importantly, I now have my own place for my family. S. Alexander

If it was not for the C.A.M. center, I wouldn't have any furniture in my house. They helped me a lot and they did a good job. All you have to do is call them and they will help you! Stacy S.

We operate a men's shelter, a family shelter, and a day shelter (or drop-in center) for the homeless.

Services

- C.A.M. helps to prevent homelessness by assisting with budgeting and helping individuals pay their monthly expenses.
- Furniture and appliances donated to C.A.M. are given to families and individuals with low income.
- Hygiene kits are available once per month to individuals in need.
- And most importantly, staff and volunteers build relationships with those we serve.

What's next for C.A.M.?

C.A.M. has been in its current building located at 210 North Market Street for over 26 years, but with the addition of services and programs through the years, the ministry has outgrown this building.

In order to meet our need for additional space, it is critical that we relocate.

We are purchasing a facility located on Union Street. This one-story building offers the shelter, office, meeting, and storage space that C.A.M. needs to continue to grow the ministry and expand its services.
